The matrix() method combines all the 2D transform methods into one.