the 1990s, the number of people in the United States who are employed in the service sector has increased from 50 to 60 per cent of the total workforce. The number of people in the service sector in the United Kingdom has increased from 55 to 65 per cent of the total workforce.

There are a number of reasons why the service sector has grown so rapidly. One reason is that the service sector is a more profitable sector than the manufacturing sector. Another reason is that the service sector is a more flexible sector than the manufacturing sector. A third reason is that the service sector is a more dynamic sector than the manufacturing sector.

The service sector is a more profitable sector than the manufacturing sector because it has a higher profit margin. The service sector is a more flexible sector than the manufacturing sector because it can adjust its output more quickly to changes in demand. The service sector is a more dynamic sector than the manufacturing sector because it is more innovative and more responsive to changes in technology.
